

SITUATION IS BOTHERING MANY

Politicians Begin To Wonder What Taft's Big Vote In The State Really Means.

DAVIDSON'S POSITION IS DECIDED

His Victory In Fight For Twesme's Election Places Him
In The Position Of Leader In State Politics
At Present.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Nov. 5.—As the belated election returns come in it is now certain that William H. Taft has won a great victory in Wisconsin and not only that, but that Governor Davidson and the entire state ticket has been elected by a handsome majority. Aside from this question the representatives in congress and in this particular the republicans show a gain of one seat, Murphy from the third, one of the two democratic members, being defeated by Kopp.
Cooper carried the first district by about twelve thousand, Nelson the second by 3,200, Kopp the third, Cary the fourth by 1,000, and Stanford the fifth.
In the sixth, the second democratic district in the state, Wilson was elected by three thousand, a decided lower vote than any democratic has carried the district before. J. J. Esch was named in the seventh with 10,000 plurality, J. H. Davidson in the eighth by 6,000, Gustav Kauterman in the ninth by 5,000, E. A. Morse in the tenth with 8,400 and L. L. Lenroot in the eleventh by 12,000.
When it comes to the question of the legislature the state is more strongly republican than ever. On the joint ballot for United States Senator the republicans will have 107 and the democrats 22. It is even a more decisive landslide than ever before.
The field is clear for the election of Stephenson and despite the gossip that opposition to him will appear it is doubtful if the fight will even amount to as much as a discussion in the legislature. Stephenson will be elected United States Senator to succeed himself beyond a question of a doubt.
The fight in the legislature will come over the speakership. For this there is already a long list of candidates. This includes M. J. Cleary of Blanchardville, W. J. Ingalls of Racine, L. W. Ledwith of Manitowish, W. H. Hanson of Milwaukee, C. E. Le Roy of Marinette, and C. E. Estabrook of Milwaukee. Out of so large a field the members will have a wide opportunity for selection. All are prominent and all but Mr. Ingalls are now members of the legislature. It is too early to venture any predictions as to the outcome of the speakership fight though there is found an inclination among old members to predict that Mr. Cleary will be found somewhere near the front.
One of the fights of the campaign for the assembly which may have an effect upon the political aspect of the state two years from now was the Ekern-Twesme fight in Trempealeau county. Here both Davidson and La Follette were pitted against each other. La Follette for Ekern, the defeated primary nominee, and Davidson for Twesme, the regular republican nominee. It was a personal bitter contest in which Senator La Follette put all his energies and used some pretty harsh language towards the Junior Wisconsin Senator. Complete returns from Trempealeau county give Twesme 2,158, Ekern 2,013, Twesme's plurality, 145. The figures on Powell, the democratic candidate, have not been reported, but the total vote for Twesme and Ekern is about 700 more than the republican vote in the county. Twesme ran as the regular republican and got few democratic votes. It is claimed, and it is the opinion of the republican managers that Ekern must have had between 600 and 700 democratic and prohibition votes. Friends of Twesme claim that the figures indicate a plurality of about 800 for Twesme on the strictly republican vote.
One fact that remains hard for the democratic leaders to figure out is the immense majority of Taft in face of what was termed, a wholesale defection of the La Follette republicans. That the democrats voted for their own candidate and the republicans, regardless of former factional feeling, voted for their's is now certain.
Taft's plurality of eighty to ninety thousand is an indication of a return to normal conditions in the republican party and is taken to mean that the bitter factional fight which for several years past has disturbed the party is now over.
While Davidson did not run as well as did Taft his plurality is but little less and the thousands odd difference is no indication that he is unpopular, but rather that local fights, such as existed in Milwaukee, tended to lessen his total vote. He carried all the republican counties handsomely and his (Continued on Page 2.)

75TH BIRTHDAY OF MICHIGAN BISHOP

John S. Foley of Catholic Diocese of Detroit, Received Congratulations Today.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 5.—Bishop John S. Foley of the Catholic diocese of Detroit was seventy-five years old today and was the recipient of numerous testimonials presented by the priesthood, the laity and others. Bishop Foley this month will also celebrate the twentieth anniversary of his elevation to the bishopric.
Bishop Foley is a native of Baltimore and his education was begun in St. Mary's college in that city. He was only 16 years old when he graduated from the college with the degree of bachelor of arts. In three years more he was prepared for the minor orders, which were administered by the late Archbishop Kenrick. He was too young for priestly orders, so the Archbishop sent him to Rome for further studies. Two years later, in the Church of St. John Lateran in Rome, he was ordained priest. Upon returning to the United States, he became rector of a church in Baltimore and remained in that city until he became bishop of Detroit in 1888.

LAMPHERE ON TRIAL NEXT WEEK FOR GUNNESS MURDER

Is Under Indictment For Setting Fire To House And Burning Family.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Laporte, Ind., Nov. 5.—Interest in the Gunness murder cases, which excited the attention of the entire country last spring, will be revived next week when Ray Lamphere, alleged to have been the right hand man of Mrs. Bella Gunness in conducting her murder farm, is placed on trial. Lamphere is under indictment for the murder of Mrs. Gunness and her three children by burning her farmhouse and is charged also with complicity in the killing of several of the woman's victims.
It is probable the youth will be tried first for the murder of Mrs. Gunness, although the prosecuting attorney claims to have a very strong case against him on the charge of complicity in the murder of Andrew Helgelein.
Helgelein, who was a South Dakota farmer, came here with $2,000 after a correspondence with Mrs. Gunness and was never more heard of. He was but one of a dozen or more men who are believed to have fallen victims to the woman's wiles.
In addition to the murder of Helgelein, Lamphere is charged with complicity in the murders of several others, but the killing of Helgelein, which is said to have occurred January 11 last, is believed to furnish the strongest case against him.
The destruction of the Gunness house and the burning of the widow and her three children occurred on the night of April 28. It came as a climax to a strenuous investigation by a brother as to the whereabouts of Albert Helgelein, who is believed to have been the last victim of Mrs. Gunness. Helgelein was lured to the Gunness farm through a matrimonial advertisement. After his arrival he was induced to turn into the woman's hands nearly $2,000, which he had earned as a rancher on his section of land near Aberdeen, S. D. It is the accepted belief of the authorities that the activity of Helgelein's brother in investigating the mystery of the former's disappearance led Lamphere to put the widow and her children out of the way in order to save himself.
Lamphere had been employed for some years on the Gunness farm and that he had a guilty knowledge of the nefarious traffic carried on by the widow seems certain. Considerable doubt exists, however, as to the extent of his complicity in the wholesale murders. He logically appears in the light of a possible accomplice, on the theory that the woman could not have done her murderous work alone. However, his apparent willingness to talk, coupled with the respectability of his antecedents and his own lack of personality, has convinced many persons acquainted with the case that Lamphere either is not guilty or was at best a mere tool in the hands of the exceptionally intelligent and cold-blooded murderer.

TAFT CONTINUES TO GAIN IN MANY DOUBTFUL STATES

Official Count In Maryland Necessary To Determine Whether Bryan Won—Missouri Is Also Thought To Be Republican—Other Political Notes.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Nov. 5.—Later developments show that Maryland and Missouri may both come into the republican fold with their twenty-six electoral votes. In both states Taft has been given a majority on the first official reports and while it is a narrow margin it is thought they will go for Taft safely.
With these two states in the republican column Taft will have 327 votes in the electoral college. Ohio and Indiana are safely for him with reduced majorities and democratic government and New York state's vote continues to count up with bigger majorities than ever before.
MISSOURI
Taft Ahead
St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 5.—Scattering and miscellaneous returns from the missing precincts failed to clear the election muddle in Missouri early today. The returns compiled early from every county gave Taft a lead over Bryan in Missouri of sixty-seven votes. The same tables give Hadley for governor a lead of 15,148, making his election over Cowdrey an absolute certainty. The legislature is still in doubt.
Still Ahead
The unofficial returns from 111 of the 115 counties give Taft a plurality of 179. Only an official count can decide the complexion of the electoral vote.
MARYLAND
Taft Is 137 Ahead
Baltimore, Md., Nov. 5.—The official canvass of the Maryland vote began today, but it will be several days before the count is complete. Nothing definite has been received to change the latest report last night giving Taft the state by 136 votes.
Taft Leading
At one o'clock this afternoon the unofficial returns from every county gave Taft a plurality of 216.
WISCONSIN
Count Is Slow
Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 5.—The total vote in Wisconsin will not be known for several days. Aside from the two leading parties the social democrats showed the greatest strength. The prohibitionist vote in Milwaukee county presents a slight gap over their last vote. The independence party did not have a ticket in Wisconsin.
NEBRASKA
Bryan Sends Telegram
Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 5.—Bryan this morning sent the following telegram to President-elect Taft: "Please accept my congratulations and best wishes for the success of your administration."
Taft's Reply
Cincinnati, O., Nov. 5.—Judge Taft today replied to W. J. Bryan's telegram of congratulations as follows: "I thank you sincerely for your cordial and courteous telegram of congratulation and good wishes."
COLORADO
Bryan's Plurality 5,577
Denver, Colo., Nov. 5.—The unofficial returns which will not likely be materially changed, place Bryan's plurality at 5,577. Shuford, democrat, for governor, 9,282, three democrats were elected to congress and the democrats will control the legislature.
MICHIGAN
Warner Safe
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 5.—With a few country districts still to be heard from and part of the Detroit vote not counted, it is practically certain today that Governor Warner has been re-elected for a third term by about 8,000 to 3,000 plurality. Apparently but one democratic member of the legislature was elected. Kepler for representative in the second Houghton district where local conditions have upset a heavy normal republican majority. Brattmeyer, republican, continues to lead for mayor of Detroit.
OHIO
Legislature Republican
Cincinnati, O., Nov. 5.—From the latest returns, Harmon, democrat, for governor, has an estimated plurality of twenty thousand. The republicans have apparently elected the balance of the state ticket and the legislature is safely republican.

TRACTION COMPANIES TO PAY SHARE OF TAXES

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Nov. 5.—More than $100,000 was yesterday added to the taxes assessed against the street and interurban railroads of Wisconsin, over and above the sum these public utility corporations paid a year ago. The state tax commission, sitting as a state board of assessment of street and interurban railway properties, announced the first assessment and distribution under the new law enacted by the legislature in 1907, providing for the assessment and taxation of these properties under the ad valorem system rather than under the old license fee or gross earnings system. The new law provides that the state tax commission value the properties at full cash value, apply thereto the average rate of taxation paid by the general property of the state, the same rate as that which is applied to the properties of the steam railroads, and that the state shall retain 15 per cent of the taxes so levied and the remaining 85 per cent be distributed back to the localities in which the street or interurban lines operate, the basis of distribution being the gross earnings obtained in each locality. Herebefore these properties were taxed locally, 12 per cent was turned into the state treasury and 88 per cent was retained locally.
Complete comparison with the taxes paid by these corporations last year is impossible owing to the fact that only 20 of the 24 companies reported, but comparing the 20 companies from which sufficient data was obtained, it is found that more than $100,000 was added to the taxes paid by the corporations as a result of the change of law. For 1907 these 20 corporations paid a total of $276,500.82, of which 12 per cent, $33,180.10, was turned into the state and 88 per cent, $243,320.72, was retained locally.
In the assessment announced yesterday, the total tax levied upon these same 20 corporations was $282,210.39, of which 12 per cent, $33,865.25, is retained by the state and 85 per cent, $248,345.14, is distributed back to the localities through which the lines operate. This partial comparison indicates that the increase in the taxes of the entire 24 corporations as the result of the new law will be about $110,000.
The largest traction company in the state is the Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light company, which is taxed $241,637.50, and the Milwaukee Light, Heat & Traction Co., the related Milwaukee utility corporation, is taxed $55,410.61. The Duluth Street railway company has a line running over into Superior, on which it pays a tax of $8,058.66. The smallest line in the state, in point of value, is that at Janesville, which is valued at $57,000 and pays taxes of $125.95.
The administration of this law is the most difficult task the state tax commission has had in years, as the data necessary to a mathematically correct calculation of the taxes and their distribution were exceedingly hard, and in some cases impossible to get.

MISTAKE OF CLERK BASIS OF REPORT

That United States Supreme Court Had Denied Book Company A Rehearing.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, November 5.—On October 19th, The Associated Press sent a dispatch from this city to the effect that in the United States Supreme Court the International Text Book Company was denied a rehearing in its suit against Aaron T. Pigg of Topeka, Kansas. It now appears that this was an error caused by a mistake of the Supreme Court clerk, who confused this case with another having a like number on the Court calendar. The case of the International Text Book Company against Pigg has not yet been argued.

DEDICATE MONUMENT TO OLD TIME FORT

Fort Massac Built by French Commanded by Lincoln D. A. R. Chapters.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Metropolis, Ill., Nov. 5.—With interesting exercises and in the presence of a large crowd, a handsome monument erected to commemorate Fort Massac was dedicated today. The ceremonies were conducted under the auspices of the Illinois chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The monument was unveiled by Beatrice Chouteau Turner, great granddaughter of George Rogers Clark. Fort Massac was built by the French government in the latter part of the seventeenth century. During the short period that Spain was in possession of the Northwest Territory, the fort was occupied by Spanish soldiers. In 1778 Gen. George Rogers Clark and his band of followers rested here on their way to the capture of Kaskaskia. The monument occupies a commanding site on a high bluff of the Ohio river looking across to the Kentucky shore. Near the top of the monument on each of the four sides is the Indiana or shield of each of the four powers to whom this section of the country has owned allegiance.

Will Not Back Down on the Casablanca Proposition At All.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, France, Nov. 5.—An extraordinary session of the cabinet was held this afternoon and the decision not to accede to the German demands in the Casablanca incident was unanimously reaffirmed. At the same time it was agreed France should show her uncompromising disposition by offering a mode of progress from the present deadlock that should be honorable to both countries. It is rumored here this afternoon that Prince Von Radoloff, the German ambassador, has been recalled. The report could not be verified.

JANESVILLE WOMEN ARE FINDING RELIEF AT LAST

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with rickling backs and many aches from kidney ills.

Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for have used Doan's Kidney Pills at different times for several years passed whenever my kidneys needed a tonic and have always received the best of results. My system was filled with uric acid poison and other symptoms showed a disordered condition of my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills rid me

BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Fair tonight and Friday, rising temperature.

THE TWESME VICTORY

The victory of Albert J. Twesme over Herman L. Ekern furnishes unmistakable evidence that the people of Wisconsin resent any interference with the results of the present primary law when it is prompted by nothing higher than personal ambition or factional hostility.

There never was any legitimate reason why Mr. Ekern should have questioned the outcome of the Trempealeau primaries and sought to overthrow the intent of a law which he himself has been most active in framing. Mr. Twesme has been as devoted to the progressive cause in Wisconsin as he has been as clean a record. There was none but the more far-fetched and unconvincing reasons for believing that his primary campaign was conducted along any save legitimate lines.

There could be only two genuine impelling motives for Mr. Ekern's desperate repudiation of the direct nomination of the people, and those were defeated—personal ambition and intense factional partisanship.

Remembering that Mr. Ekern thought himself fitted to do the thinking and choosing for the republican party in the primary senatorial campaign, there can be small wonder that he resented being balked in his desire to think and choose for Trempealeau county.

The most regrettable feature of this party rupture, however, was Senator La Follette's active exposure of Mr. Ekern's cause. It must be deplored as an exhibition of decidedly bad judgment that he permitted his personal friendship for Mr. Ekern to overshadow his judgment as to the reputation of the law which he projected and a hostile challenge to the majority of his party.

The primary law has its weak spots, no doubt, and that very weakness on which Senator La Follette based his plea was one upon which he himself insisted when the law was framed. That was but one of the inconsistencies of his attitude in the Trempealeau contest which caused disconcerting voters to turn a deaf ear to his plea.

That the main consideration was this, that while the law is a law in its present state it is entitled to the respect which any law demands. Its operation does not lie aside at will, unless the most potent and conclusive arguments can be adduced to that end.

On this proposition the voters of the entire state no doubt agree with those of Trempealeau county, just as the republican party joins with the majority in that county in resenting any attempt to foment further factional warfare in its ranks, in the absence of vital reasons, or reasons of principle therefor.

This sensible editorial is from the Milwaukee Free Press, and carries weight because of the fact that for years it was the organ of the senior senator.

The contest in Trempealeau county excited more interest throughout the state than any other issue outside the national ticket. When the senator and governor entered the field, lines were sharply drawn and many old-time friends of La Follette were free to criticize his action.

It is the opening scene in a new political drama, and when the closing act is presented, the audience will represent a united republican party.

NOW FOR BUSINESS

When attention as the result of the panic was at its height, the manufacturers and businessmen of St. Louis organized the National Prosperity League, and an effort was made to unite the businessmen of the country in a general prosperity movement.

The argument advanced, was that depression had become epidemic without sufficient cause, and that if people would turn about face and talk good things as enthusiastically as they were discussing hard times, the clouds would soon be dispelled, and normal conditions resumed.

It was an optimistic move in the right direction, and accomplished good results, but when the campaign came on much of the ardor collapsed, for men would not talk business, nor attempt much in the way of branching out, until the national contest was settled.

They did not propose to take any chances on an uncertain future, and so, many conditional orders were placed, and many industries were running light.

That now all uncertainty is at an end. With the election of Taft and the strong endorsement of the national administration, the people are assured that nothing will be done to destroy confidence or demoralize business, and the Prosperity League should include on its membership roll, not only the businessmen and manufacturers, but the name of every loyal American citizen.

It is time to be an optimist and talk prosperity, and when this becomes the watchword, activity in every line of trade will follow, for good things as well as bad are contagious.

The victory of Taft is significant for it is more than a republican victory. While the old wing of the democratic party may not have rendered active support, it certainly did not oppose him, and these conservative men are highly gratified with results. The year 1909 should be the banner year. Less spectacular than some preceding years, because the demand for goldbricks will not be so largely in evidence, but a good old-fashioned year when people will be content to saw wood and attend to business.

A year when capital and corporations will be given time to adjust themselves to changed conditions, and when legislation will be tempered with justice. Time to get busy, and help the good work along.

The birds of the air prepare for winter by flying south, the beasts by laying up a store of food to last them during the cold months and mankind by buying coal and wood and putting on double windows. It is instinct brought about by actual suffering that teaches people how to prepare for the different seasons.

Everyone said that it would be a mild winter this year because the birds and the beasts were not preparing for a cold one, but someone must have slipped up as a frost appeared November third that blasted all hopes of a late crop.

There are some men who fall over to grasp an opportunity when it is presented to them. These men always complain because times are hard or they have to work too hard and can be counted as failures.

Castro is ready for Holland and Holland is ready for Castro, but the war game is delayed until the moving picture man can get his camera in shape so that none of the opera bouffe war is forgotten.

It is understood that the telegraph station and substation at Palmyra, Nebraska, are to be torn out as the companies feel they will have no further use for them for at least four years.

So the University Club at Madison cannot break the law any more than a student organization. Too bad, Professors, but you must go outside the half-mile limit if you wish to enjoy your beer.

The American fleet is today paying its visit to the Chinese ports and the Jackies on board are ashore playing baseball and football to show the Chinese what they miss by not being Americans.

Governor Davidson's activity in seeing the state law relative to prize-fighting enforced in Milwaukee cost him many votes, but his attitude was approved by the state at large.

It really appears that "Fingy" Connors was wrong and the good old state of Ohio is still the Mother of presidents. Nebraska must wait until some other time.

Bryan retired early on election night, as all farmers should. When he reappears the people will be told how it all happened and that will help some.

As both the bride and the groom were in mourning there was no display at the wedding and no bridesmaids or ushers. Mr. De Rahm acted as Mr. Root's best man.

AGED HORSE-THIEF AGAIN IN PRISON

John Arquette Who Once Made Rock County and Vicinity His Stamp- ing Grounds Gets 5 Year Term.

John Arquette, reputed to be 69 years old and a former resident of Rock county, is again behind the prison bars, having heretofore served two terms—one for burglary and one for horse-stealing. He pleaded guilty before Judge O'Neill at Black River Falls, to the charge of robbing the home of Mrs. Kate Herrill from a stolen deed, substituting his own, and having the instrument recorded in that fashion. A quarter of a century ago Judge O'Neill, then a young lawyer, prosecuted and secured a conviction of Arquette in Clark county on a charge of arson but a new trial under a change of venue cleared him. The court sentenced the aged offender, this time, to serve five years in the penitentiary.

The Very Greatest Hosiery Bargain

Without a doubt the Hose we talk about today is the biggest bargain ever offered by any merchant in any country, in America or in Europe.

200 dozen (2400 pairs) will be put on sale

FRIDAY (TOMORROW) AT 12 1-2c

Color, fast black. Quality, extra fine, mercurized gauze lisle. Sizes, 8 to 10. History: Made by a well known manufacturer and hundreds of dozens have been sold the country over, at 50c a pair. Some of these hose did not prove quite satisfactory, made the maker some trouble, and he stopped making them. To close them out at once he made the price so low that no merchant could afford to pass them and we bought 200 dozen in short order. No gauze lisle hose are warranted, but women will have them. Any woman can afford to take the risk of an occasional pair not wearing just right as she is getting a 50c hose for 12 1-2c. A dozen for $1.50, value $6.00. Women are sure to buy them in dozen and two dozen lots, can't help it. Friday, tomorrow, they go on sale and we will continue the price, 12 1-2c, until sold. All sizes, 8 to 10 to begin with, but the earlier you buy them the better, as some sizes sell faster than others

SHARP WORDS IN THE CALE CASE

SHERIFF FISHER AND ATTY. PIERCE CLASHED TODAY

PRISONER WENT ON STAND

This Afternoon and Denied Everything

—Mysterious "Milwaukee Harry"

to Be a Factor in the Trial.

While a large audience in the municipal courtroom, the trial of James

Cale on the charge of holding up and robbing Herman Peschke on the night of Oct. 10, was resumed before the jury to twelve this morning. Herman

Bladtline, one of the employees at the Schmiedley restaurant, testified to seeing

Cale enter the restaurant with one man between 11 and 12 o'clock on the evening in question and with another individual between 12 and one o'clock. Turnkey James went on the stand and told of conversations with Cale at the county jail. He stated that Cale told him that he was called by Dorsey on the street; that Dorsey said: "There comes a fellow with a suit; that he (Cale) grabbed the fellow; that Dorsey went through his pockets and got and took all the money. The witness admitted having suggested to Cale that while his father might be able to do something for him, a plea of guilty seemed to him (the turnkey) the only way out of the difficulty. On the ground that such remarks constituted an implied suggestion of humanity as a reward for a confession and that evidence secured under any such circumstances could not be entertained by the court, Attorney Pierce objected and demanded that all the testimony be stricken out. Witness stated that he made the remarks after Cale had voluntarily talked to him about the matter and not before. The question was a very close one but Judge Field decided to admit the testimony under objection.

Some Exciting Moments

Sheriff Fisher, while on the witness stand, was provoked into making a stinging retort to Attorney Pierce when the latter insinuated that he made a practice of railroadng men to the penitentiary.

"I have railroaded no man to prison and I won't stand for such insinuations," was the sheriff's indignant exclamation at the beginning of "the trouble."

"I'll make insinuations of the kind whenever I want to," declared the attorney. "If the sheriff likes you, put it out."

"If you are in the business of fitting shoes, you better—" The balance of the remark was so directly personal and uncomplimentary that it will not be reproduced in these columns. It produced a commotion in the courtroom and Judge Field rapped loudly for order. He then threatened to fine both Attorney Pierce and Sheriff Fisher for contempt of court. Both immediately apologized and the incident was closed.

Other Witnesses on Stand

Turnkey James admitted that he had refused to allow Cale's father to see him when the former first called at the jail. Herman Peschke was not in the courtroom this morning but a bench warrant was served on him during the noon hour. The defense began introducing its witnesses this afternoon. Thomas Cale said that he was the father of the accused; that he was representative in Congress from Alaska; that he had lived in Fairbanks for the great part of 11 years; that he and his two sons went to Montana in June and were in South Dakota for the land drawing in September.

John Goodman testified that he had seen Dorsey and a light-complexioned fellow in Morse's restaurant about midnight, October 9.

William Cale testified to a chance conversation he had with Herman Peschke on the train from Juneau to Janesville, election night. Peschke shared a seat with him in the car and told him that he had been held up and robbed by two or three fellows in Janesville two weeks before but that he didn't know who they were.

Herman Peschke had previously denied making some of the statements to Win Cale attributed to him by attorney for the defense.

Officer Brown on Stand

Officer John Brown took the stand for the defense. He answered to the question: "What official position do you hold in this city?" he hesitated for a few seconds and then answered: "Patrolman." When he examined Dorsey, immediately after his capture, he said that the latter at first told him that the stolen watch was given to him by a fellow named Milwaukee Harry. Afterwards, when warned to tell the truth, Dorsey had said that a fellow named Cale who was in prison with him was there had given it to him. Attorney Pierce objected to a question as to whether or not it was true that the witness was in litigation with George Appleby and that Charles Pierce was his attorney. He was not allowed to answer.

Cale on the Stand

The accused took the stand late this afternoon. He said that he dropped off in Janesville on his way to Chicago on the night of Oct. 9 and after getting a lunch in a restaurant opposite the depot, visited several saloons. It was the first and only time he had ever been in or through this city. He met Dorsey on Milwaukee street about 11:30 and gave him 50 cents to get some whiskey. The saloons being closed, after drinking the whiskey, he gave Dorsey some more money with which to get something to eat and that was the last he saw of him until 5:30 the next morning. They went to McShane's saloon and at 9:30 he took a train for Chicago. Witness denied all confessions imputed to him.

ROUSING RALLY WAS HELD FOR SCHEIBEL

Friends of Sheriff-elect Scheibel, to the Number of Three or Four Hundred, Had a Torchlight Procession to Celebrate His Victory.

(Special to the Gazette.)

Beloit, Wis., Nov. 5, 1908.—Last night another rousing rally was held in this city. The occasion for the rally was the election of R. G. Scheibel as sheriff, his majority being the largest ever given to any candidate for any office in the county. The procession was started by the Woodmen band. Mayor Cunningham and ex-Mayor Gault went after the sheriff in a carriage and headed by the band they marched the streets. About 300 or 400 men picked up as the procession proceeded followed the procession, bearing torches and cheering and shouting for Sheriff-elect Scheibel. When the procession halted, ex-Mayor Gault arose and made a few complimentary remarks about Mr. Scheibel. Scheibel then made a speech thanking the people and the newspapers for their support during the campaign.

Drugged in Depot.

A young lady, Miss Doris Mitchell, who was coming to Beloit from Havre, Montana, was drugged while waiting for her train in the station at Chicago and relieved of a suitcase belonging to her which contained all of her clothing except that which she wore, some valuable jewelry, her railroad ticket, transporting her from Montana to Beloit, and $35 in cash. She was sitting in the depot and happened to complain to a woman who was sitting near her that she had a headache. The woman took out a little bottle, which she said contained a headache remedy offering it to the young lady who accepted it and took some of the stuff. She began to feel dizzy and her supposed friend advised her to go into the toilet room. She complied and sank into a stupor from the effects of the drug. When she returned she found that her suitcase was gone. A collection was taken up by some of the chivalrous men in the depot and enough was collected to pay her fare to Beloit, where she had friends.

M'GOWAN VS. PAUL

AGAIN IN COURT

Case Involving Lighting and Building

Sidewalks in Village of Milton

Up Again.

Before Judge Grimm this afternoon a motion to extend the time for filing a bill of exceptions and taking an appeal from the decision of the court in the case of McGowan vs. Paul was argued. The question involves the right of the village of Milton to levy taxes for lighting and for building sidewalks. Judge Grimm decided after the trial last summer that the village could levy such taxes and could expend the money collected for such purposes. The plaintiff now wishes to appeal but having slept on his rights too long was forced to make a motion to extend the time allowed by statute.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Nov. 5, 1863.—Special Meeting of the Common Council.—The Common Council are to meet Tuesday evening, to take into consideration the erection of a new school building in the First Ward.

A bit of History and What Came of It.—Two rival swains, enamored of the same female, got into a "complexion" yesterday and decided to settle the difficulty by a resort to the "manly art of self-defense," and proceeded to a spot near the city and fought it out.

Races.—There will be a matched race on the Janesville track on Thursday at two o'clock between the sorrel Dan and Arkansas mare for $1,000. Also a two-mile dash for a purse of $150. On Friday there will be spirited races by "Twenty Cents, Canada, Merrill, Public Lilly, and some of the best horses in the west.

A Brutal and Disgraceful Affair.—Yesterday it was noted on the street that a rough and tumble fight, for a wager of $25 on a side was to come off between two men, named Nat Henderson and Tom White. A number of sporting men and men of bad reputation gathered at the foot of Main street to witness it, twice selecting a locality and being twice driven away by an officer. Finally a place was selected on the farm of Mr. Olds, in the town of Rock, and despite the protests of the owner, the roughs pitched into each other and in a few minutes, White was shockingly beaten, both eyes being closed.

To Buy More Hoses.—At the meeting of the council last evening, an appropriation of $1,600 was made for the purchase of new fire hoses. The bridge committee was authorized to procure plans and specifications for a bridge on Milwaukee street.

Election Day in the South.—At Murfreesboro, Tenn., the rebels at an early hour surrounded the polls and permitted no republicans to vote. Fully 2,000 republicans were kept out. No disturbance occurred in Arkansas during the election. The republicans claim the state by 2,000 majority. In South Carolina all was quiet; the same was true in Georgia, except in Savannah and Augusta where there was some rioting.

Carl Olson as "A Prince of Sweden."—There probably has not been such an instantaneous theatrical success in years as the comedy drama "A Prince of Sweden." THE 'CURSE' OF DRINK

Most men drink because they say it doesn't hurt them and makes them feel better. Here is what the leading medical dictionary says of alcohol:

"Internally it is a powerful, mental excitant, in large doses, a depressing narcotic POISON."

With this truth before you, do you wonder that when a man's system becomes accustomed to this poison, that your arguments and pleadings fail to stop him from drinking.

He can no more stop without medical aid, than can the opium, morphine, or cocaine user.

White Ribbon Remedy will remove the alcohol from his system and cause him to even hate the smell of liquor.

You don't have to get his consent to take White Ribbon Remedy as it is a perfectly harmless powder, that has neither taste, odor or color. You can give it to him in any food or drink, even in plain water.

So confident are we that this remedy can destroy all desire for liquor in any person, that we agree to return your money if it fails to do so.

Get a free sample and book in plain package by writing White Ribbon Remedy Co., Boston, Mass. Only $1.00 per package.

Chapter 16

INA had run up to town for a day from Silver- side and had telephoned Selwyn to take her somewhere for luncheon. She urged him to return with her, insisting that a week end at Silver-side was what he needed to avert physical disintegration.

"What is there to keep you in town?" she demanded. "The children have been clamoring for you day and night, and Ellen has been expecting a letter. You promised to write her, Phil."

"I'm going to write to her," he said impatiently. "Wait a moment, Nina. Don't speak of anything pleasant or intimate just now, because—because I've got to bring up another matter—something not very pleasant to me or to you. It is about—Alice. You know her in school years ago. You have always known her."

"Yes."

"You—did you ever visit her—stay at the Varhans' house?"

"Yes."

"In—her own home in Westchester?"

"Yes."

"There was a silence. His eyes, shifted to his plate; remained fixed as he said: "Then you knew her—father?"

"Yes, Phil," she said quietly, "I knew Mr. Varhan."

"Was there anything—anything unusual—about him—in those days?"

"Have you heard that for the first time?" asked his sister.

He looked up. "Yes. What was it, Nina?"

She became busy with her plate for awhile. He sat rigid, patient, one hand resting on his elbow, the other on the table. Presently she said without meeting his eyes:

"It was even further back—her grand- parents—one of them—"

She lifted her head slowly. "That is why it so deeply concerned me, Phil, when we heard of your marriage."

"What concerned you?"

"The chance of inheritance—the risk of the taint—of transmitting it. Her father's erratic brilliancy became more than eventually before I knew him. I would have told you that had I dreamed that you ever could have thought of marrying Alice Varhan. But how could I know you would meet her out there in the orient? It was—your cable to us was like a thunder-bolt. And when she—she left you so suddenly—Phil, dear—I feared the true reason—the only possible reason that could be responsible for such an insane act."

"What was the truth about her father?" he said doggedly. "He was eccentric. Was he ever worse than that?"

"The truth was that he became mentally irresponsible before his death."

"You know that?"

"Alice told me when we were school- girls. And for days she was haunted with the fear of what might one day be her inheritance. That is all I know, Phil."

He nodded and for awhile made some pretense of eating, but presently leaned back and looked at his sister out of dazed eyes.

"Do you suppose," he said heavily, "that she was not entirely responsible when—when she went away?"

"I have wondered," said Nina simply. "Austin believes it."

"I can't believe it," he said, staring at vacancy. "I refuse to." And, thinking of her last frightened and excited letter imploring an interview with him and giving the startling reason, "What a scandal that fellow Ruthven is," he said, with a shudder.

That night he wrote to Alice:

If Ruthven threatens you with divorce on such a ground he himself is likely to be adjudged mentally unsound. It was a brutal, stupid threat, nothing more, and his insult to your father's memory was more brutal still. Don't be stampeded by such threats. Improve them by your calm self-control under provocation. Dis- prove them by your discretion and self-confidence. Give nobody a single possible reason for gossip. And, above all, Alice, don't become worried and morose over anything you might dread as inheritance. For you are as sound today as you were when I first met you, and you shall not doubt that you could ever be

You Judge Coffee by its Flavor

If I were to tell you that Golden Blend was the best coffee in Janesville, and if Golden Blend did not exactly suit your taste you would conclude that I knew very little about coffee. You are the judge of what coffee is best for you but I will say this for Golden Blend, and you see if I'm not right:

Golden Blend is of the choicest South American coffees and is the result of years of careful study in the handling of coffee. It is not an exceedingly strong coffee, neither is it a real mild coffee, but sort of betwixt and between, designed to meet the taste of 9-10th of all the coffee drinkers. It may be that your taste for coffee runs particularly to mild coffee and that Golden Blend is too strong, or perhaps just the other way; you cannot tell until you have tried it. But if you will try a pound of Golden Blend upon my recommendation and it doesn't suit you exactly, I'll blend specially for you in half-pound lots and give them to you free until I have suited your taste. Then your coffee troubles will be over, for when I once know what you like best, I will have no trouble in getting it for you.

You will find more satisfaction in buying of a coffee specialist than from the ordinary dealer who knows but little about coffee except its price. Call me up today.
